Your resource for emissions, compliance, and allowance data.

The EPA collects CO<sub>2</sub>, NO<sub>x</sub>, SO<sub>2</sub>, and mercury emissions data from electricity generating units (EGUs) to ensure compliance with a variety of federal air quality programs. CAMPD is your one-stop shop for the emissions, compliance, allowance, and facility attributes data that is gathered under these programs.

Data

Create custom queries, download bulk datasets and use the CAM API to retrieve emissions, allowance and compliance data.

CAMPD provides access to larger bulk downloads of apportioned and raw emissions, allowance, and compliance data by maintaining access to static datasets available through EPA's FTP site. The FTP site is accessible here and has groupings of data which may be directly accessed using one of the links below.
